Homeless man found having sex with dog

BY COURT REPORTER

editor@mk-news.co.uk

A HOMELESS man who had sex with his dog outside a church in broad daylight has avoided being sent to jail.

Robert Buchanan was caught by a Thames Valley Police CCTV operator who became suspicious of his movements under a sleeping bag.

The 35-year-old dreadlocked defendant admitted the offence but denied claims that it was a regular activity.

His dog, a lurcher-cross, which he had owned for eight years since she was a puppy has been rehomed.

Michael Roques, prosecuting the drifter, said: "On June 30, 2013 at about 6pm a police CCTV operator watching an area in central Milton Keynes saw the defendant lying outside the Church of Christ the Cornerstone.

"He appeared to be sleeping rough and was lying under a sleeping bag. It was apparent, when the CCTV operator focussed, that there was also a dog there."

Buchanan was on his side behind the dog which was pressed against the full-length window of the church and he had his hand on its neck.

Mr Roques said: "The defendant appeared to be rhythmically thrusting."

The controller directed police to the site and they arrested the defendant.

Mr Roques added: "He stated he hadn't done anything wrong and didn't understand why he had been arrested."

Buchanan was then shown the camera footage but denied he was having sex with the animal.

The dog was examined by a vet in the presence of an RSPCA inspector and was found to have injuries connected to the assault. Mr Roques said: "The dog is described as behaving in an unusual manner, as shutting down.

"The inspector comments that he's never seen a dog acting in that way.

"She doesn't try to remove herself from the situation, which suggests the dog is used to this behaviour."

Despite his initial denial, Buchanan later admitted a charge of having sexual intercourse with an animal.

Jonathan Mole, for the defence, said in mitigation that his client had not denied the act but said he could not remember what had happened, as he had memory problems stemming from drug use.

He did, however, deny that the abuse was systematic.

Mr Mole said: "He has been charged with a single incident and has admitted a single incident."

He said his behaviour demonstrated "isolation from mainstream society."

Judge Johannah Cutts QC, sentencing Buchanan at Amersham Crown Court on Friday, said: "On any view this is a serious offence. People who own dogs care for them in a humane way. They do not abuse them in the way you did."

She placed Buchanan, of no fixed abode, under a three-year community order, including a supervision requirement. She also imposed a prohibited activity requirement which bans him from owning a dog for the duration of the sentence.

Afterwards chief inspector Jim Lucas, of the RSPCA, said: "Our reaction was the same as most members of the public: shock, surprise and disgust. It does seem that this is, to a degree, associated with how he has struggled to integrate with human society and has formed a dysfunctional view of his relationship with his dog."

Abbey vandal escapes from police search

A VANDAL who smashed 19 windows at Bradwell Abbey managed to evade police and search dogs – despite them being at the site during the incident.

The thug is believed to have caused £6,000 worth of damage with either a stick or a baseball bat between 11pm and midnight on Sunday, January 26.

Police were actually at the far end of the site training their dogs and when they heard the commotion the hounds managed to track down a scent into Bradwell Village where it was eventually lost.

It is the second time the historical abbey has been targeted. This newspaper previously reported how £4,000 worth of windows were smashed at the venue in August, as well as staff being confronted and damage occuring to a treasured model of the site.

And senior figures at the abbey firmly believe that both attacks were carried out by the same perpetrator.

Henk van Aswegen is director of education charity Milton Keynes City Discovery Centre (MKCDC), which run Bradwell Abbey.

He said: "Whoever is doing this obviously does not realise that they are doing significant damage to the educational and community services we deliver to the people of MK from the site."

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said: "The dogs tried to locate the offenders but were unsuccesful. The investigation is ongoing and anyone with information should call 101."

Views sought on Boulevard's future plans

SHOPPERS and residents are being asked to submit their views on future plans for Midsummer Boulevard East.

The area stretches from Midsummer Place to Campbell Park and ideas that have been muted for its development include a civic square and new bus interchange.

Public consultations will be held on Friday and Saturday at Midsummer Place Atrium (between Pret a Manger and Burger King) and Silbury Arcade between Costa Coffee and M&S.

Staff will be on hand between 10am and 4pm to assist and comments received from the public exhibition will be discussed at a three-day workshop with key stakeholders next month.

Cllr David Hopkins, cabinet member for strategic planning, said: "It is vital that we have views from as many people as possible, so that we can make the best informed choices."

Awake to Africa drum up interest at Moorlands

A FORMER council worker is giving children a unique way of understanding other cultures – by getting them to dress up, drum and dance in African style.

Vicky Mensah, who is originally from Ghana, moved to MK 13 years ago to study at university.

After a spell as a language assistant at Milton Keynes Council, she set up Awake to Know Africa in 2004.

Recently she has been at Moorlands School teaching pupils about Africa.

She said: "We get the children drumming, singing and dressing up. It's all about community integration and MK is a growing city that can still learn lessons on how to get on well with each other."

MoD searching for relatives of WWI lieutenant Charles

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

THE Ministry of Defence (MoD) is trying to find the relatives of an army officer from the city whose remains may have been found.

The Government department is currently searching for any surviving relatives of the officer from the Oxford and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry, who died on May 3, 1917, near Beaurains in Northern France during the First World War battle of Arras.

The remains were discovered in June 2012 following heavy rainfall, which uncovered a shallow grave in a garden near Beaurains.

These could belong to one of four officers who died that day and the MoD hopes to discover which one by finding surviving relatives who can provide a DNA sample.

One of the officers concerned is 2nd Lieutenant Charles Croke Harper, 3rd Bn attached to 5th, Oxford and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry.

Charles was the son of The Rev E J and Frances Wetherell Harper of Broughton Rectory, Newport Pagnell.

Born in 1880, he had two brothers and four sisters.

His brothers were called Francis Strachey Harper and Lionel Edward Harper. Francis was born in 1973 and died in London in 1943, leaving his widow Una Evelyn. Lionel was born in 1878 and died in Kent in 1970.

His sisters were Margaret Harper (born in 1874), Mabel Sophia Harper (born in 1877), Constance Mirian Harper (born in 1894) and Grace Wetherall Harper (born in 1875). Grace married a Mr Geary in 1903 and they had three children called Joan Phyllis Wetherall Geary (born in 1904), Bridget Winifred Geary (born in 1907) and Dennis Hugh Philip Geary (born in 1908).

Anyone who might be able to help trace these relatives should contact Lynne Gammond, from army media and communication, on 03067 701 322, or lynne.gammond453@mod.uk.

Manchester United's biggest fan: Levi Henson grasps the Premier League trophy in his own home

Man U's tribute to brave fan Levi

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

MANCHESTER United paid their respects to Levi Henson after he lost his battle with cancer.

The 13-year-old from New Bradwell was diagnosed with osteosarcoma, an aggressive bone cancer, in September last year after beating retinal cancer when he was one.

Levi was a favourite with the Premier League football club after he went for a meal with star player Ryan Giggs in October. After his visit bouncers turned up at Levi's home with the Premier League trophy.

Levi was supposed to join his stepfather Tony Laight at the Sunderland game to meet the whole team, but died the night before on Tuesday, January 21.

The club wrote a tribute piece for Levi in the match programme and at half-time they played his fundraising single Stronger, recorded with MK's Soul Urban Poet.

The tribute touched both teams supporters and Levi was trending on Twitter.

Tony, and Levi's mum Kelli Barnes, said: "We would like to thank everyone for their support and the endless kind words since our inspirational, funny, brave young man passed away. We'd like to say thank you to Manchester United for the overwhelming tribute to Levi. It is nice to see a professional football club giving back to their fans and caring so much. We're not saying goodbye, just goodnight."

The Levi Henson Project, set up to help the teen, now aims to become a registered charity and support other child cancer patients.

Levi's funeral will be held today at Crownhill Crematorium at 1.15pm. All are welcome with a request to wear Manchester United kit or purple – Levi's favourite colour.

MK NEWS has been inundated with readers' views following last week's story about plans to expand Two Mile Ash School. Below are a selection of your comments. See next Wednesday's paper for more

The 'lunacy' of drivers

I WRITE to you as a resident of Two Mile Ash and as a parent of two children who go to school in the area – one at Two Mile Ash School and one at Ashbrook School.

They are seven and five years old respectively and most mornings, during our walk to school, my children and I bear witness to the lunacy that descends upon some other parents who drive their children to school.

We see people shouting at each other, swearing, shaking fists, screeching their tyres, hooting and generally being downright rude.

This is not the kind of experience I want for my kids, or for myself, and makes me face my daily journey with severe trepidation.

Two Mile Ash School is proposing to expand its intake by 180 places. Currently, all the local, walking-distance children already attend the school. This means that all of the new children will be driven here, meaning an extra 180ish cars on the estate twice a day.

This doesn't even take into consideration the extra staff cars that will arrive every day too; there will be a lot of extra staff.

I know the school is going to provide 50 spaces in the grounds, but it's easy to see that the sums just don't add up.

The traffic and parking is such an issue already, how can it possibly improve it by adding such a huge volume of vehicles to the mix?

In summary, I really don't think the school or the council have thought through the issues relating to parking and traffic and quite frankly, I don't think they care.

Lisa Harvey-Bain
Two Mile Ash

Abuse from parents

I AM a resident of The High Street, almost next to the school.

To expand the school will only make the current situation worse.

I have been verbally abused by parents when asking them if they can move their car out of my private parking bay.

My partner was verbally and physically abused when she complained.

I have had cars scratched and damaged too. A child stood on my exhaust pipe to break it while the parent was watching. A neighbour was physically abused by the same parent that abused my partner and she told her children to throw things at their windows.

I have also witnessed a grandmother running over her own granddaughter and emergency service vehicles being unable to come down the road because of parents' inconsiderate double, and sometimes triple, parking.

The council once brought in traffic wardens but all they did was chat up the mothers! We have a 'keep clear' box on the entrance to our private parking and all the traffic warden did was chat to the mother who was parked on it rather than moving her off.

A lot of the parents who drive the children to school can actually walk.

It has also affected our bus service in the fact that the busses do not run through the estate during the times that the children go in and out of school. If we want to get a bus we have to walk over to Great Holm to get it – all because of the traffic congestion.

If the school has money to expand then it should spend it on sorting out the current situation, rather than making it worse.

Nick Knott
The High Street, Two Mile Ash

Chance to sort parking

I'VE been a resident of Two Mile Ash (TMA) for more than 15 years.

We are coming to a fork in the road with the school expansion plans. It can either be well thought out and money spent wisely, or it could result in traffic problems for years to come. The opportunity for the school and council to get it right is now, or the discontent will just roll on for many years.

To get it right the council needs to spend the money on highway controls in terms of double yellow lines, clearly identified parking areas and keeping the roads clear in and around the school.

By making access to the school through gates at new positions at the boundary of the school grounds, for example off the Downland area, and spreading parking across the estate then congestion will be eased, but I wonder whether there is a serious budget considered for road improvements which would help keep TMA moving?

If the school and council get it wrong, then it could end up doing not just the estate a lot of damage, but also badly affect the reputation of the school, but all of this pales into insignificance if the life of a child is taken because of poor standards of driver care.

Your comments on school fines

Share your views on articles – log onto www.mkweb.co.uk

I BELIEVE that being late more than 10 times in 12 weeks (which is when the fine would actually come into effect) is poor parenting, not poor schooling.

Schools may well need to be improved but you can't blame poor schooling on parents not being bothered with getting their kids to school on time.

Klaire Taylor

PUNCTUALITY is a very important part of life. As a child I had the 10 minute rule drummed into me – always be 10 minutes early!

I appreciate that there is the odd occasion when it is out of our hands and we are late. However, it is unacceptable to be constantly late. My child, even at four, would be mortified if she was late for school. The routine of a school day is invaluable. Schools must be so frustrated to put these penalties in place. It is the parent/guardian that is responsible and they must ask themselves 'why am I late in getting my child/children to school?'

Selina Copeland

LOL. My son's school moans about us been there before the gates open at 8.45am!

Chantel Stace

I WENT to Emerson Valley School and parents need to realise they are disrupting their education! #LateForSchoolFines

ANYONE who's had the misfortune of visiting the Post Office in Central Milton Keynes lately will know what a frustrating task it has become.

In olden times, it used to mean standing in a single queue waiting for the next cashier.

Annoying, yes, but at least it was simple and you could see your progress through the queue.

Fast forward to Milton Keynes' state-of-the-art post office situated inexplicably underneath a block of flats, far, far away from the convenience of the main shopping centre and buying a stamp has never been so complicated.

As you walk through the door you're greeted with a barrage of misleading signs and arrows telling you where you need to go for each service.

Only it doesn't tell you anything at all and everyone ends up having to take a deli-style ticket anyway.

But even that isn't straight forward unless you are entirely sure what service you need.

And so begins the wait as you join hundreds of others watching the Argos-style ticket monitor telling you which counter to go to.

And if you're planning on going during your lunch hour, think again, or take a flask and sandwich with you.

There are self-service tills for stamps, but not recorded delivery or some of the other more common postal requirements.

Is it a large letter? Small letter? Parcel? The combinations are endless and beyond the comprehension of most people in a rush.

And what if you want a passport form or driving license application? Nothing is simple in a new look Post Office.

That is unless you want to pay £1.49 for five envelopes then that's easy.

However, a pack of 20 will cost you a quid in Poundland…and the queue's shorter!

BY JAMES AVERILL

BLETCHLEY Park Trust has denied there is disharmony within the venue – after a tour guide was dismissed for taking visitors into another site at the venue.

Long-serving volunteer Tony Carroll was filmed on a BBC Look East news item being asked to step down as he was taking visitors to the neighbouring The National Museum of Computing (TNMOC) site to see the famous Colossus computer.

The trust says that this was not an 'agreed format' for the tour and had asked the volunteer to leave – adding it 'greatly regretted' when a volunteer felt unable to contribute.

Mr Carroll had told the BBC: "They are ruining the place. We are all very upset that we are not being able to tell the story we want to."

And in a dramatic development on Monday, TNMOC released a statement saying that Bletchley Park had proved 'exceedingly difficult' to work with and that the site was becoming 'fragmented'.

The museum rents the nearby Block H from the trust for roughly £100,000 a year. The statement read: "We are very much opposed to the fragmentation of Bletchley Park currently being undertaken by the Bletchley Park Trust.

"Records show that the numbers of visitors coming to see the Colossus Rebuild are declining as a direct result."

But Bletchley Park posted a rebuttal of the claims on its website. It stated: "We intend that the TNMOC exhibition should be enjoyed by visitors to Bletchley Park."

Holocaust tributes at Rose

THE Mayor of Milton Keynes was one of several people to remember Holocaust Memorial Day at MK Rose.

The event, held at the Campbell Park monument on Monday, saw respects paid at the special Holocaust Memorial Day pillar. There was a short act of commitment and pebbles were laid at the base in tribute.

The mayor, Cllr Brian White, said: "It's important that we always remember that holocausts have happened throughout history. It is up to us to remain vigilant, because for evil to succeed good only has to do nothing."

Hit and run in Olney

POLICE are continuing to investigate a hit and run in Olney when a 44-year-old man was found with head injuries. It happened at 6.50am on January 8. If you have information call police on 101.

Story correction

FOLLOWING MK NEWS' story on Hackney cab drivers last week we have been asked to clarify two points. Private hire minicabs have blue plates, not yellow, and last month the licencing committee capped the number of Hackney Carriages in the city, not the number of drivers.

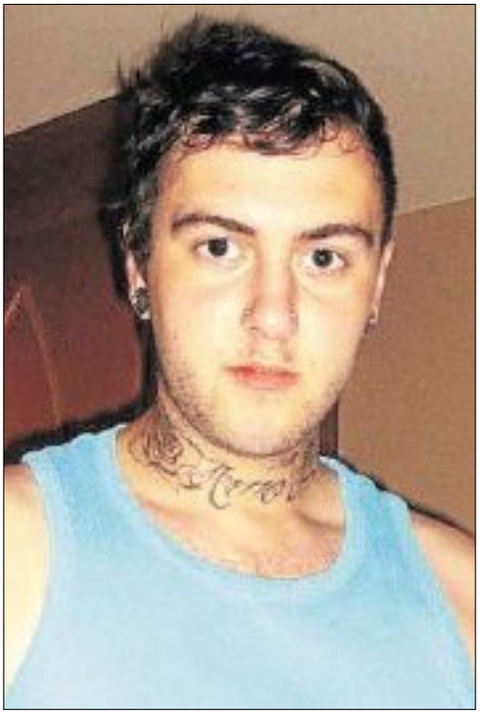
Manslaughter trial begins



THE jury have been sworn in for the trial of two men charged in connection with the death of a tattoo artist in Milton Keynes.

Samir Bostan, 25, of Wolstan Meadow, Middleton, is charged with the manslaughter of Joe Kent, 24, who died at Milton Keynes Hospital on January 15 last year after suffering head injuries during a fight outside Xscape two days earlier.

Mr Kent, pictured, had worked at the Lucky 13 tattoo studio in Kingsthorpe, Northampton, and was a popular figure on the Milton Keynes music scene, playing drums for Roots in Revolution.

Married Joe died the day before what would have been his 25th birthday.

In the dock alongside Mr Bostan is Hamza Noor, 22, of Ranelagh Road in Wembley, London.

Both he and Mr Bostan have also pleaded not guilty to assaulting Andrew Curzon-Berners with another man on January 13 last year, occasioning him actual bodily harm.

Mr Bostan also denies a charge of assaulting Matthew Kent with another on January 13 last year.

After the pleas were entered at Luton Crown Court on Monday, the jury of six men and six women were told they will begin hearing evidence later on this week.

Pool and sports ground 'secure'

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A SWIMMING pool and sports ground in Newport Pagnell that were potentially under threat have had their futures secured.

And exciting plans by the incoming operators show that a new gym is to be built.

MK NEWS previously reported how Newport Pagnell Town Council could no longer afford to run Middleton Pool and Willen Road sports ground after losing £114,000 in grant funding from Milton Keynes Council.

But it has now entered into a partnership with DC Leisure, and its subsidiary Places for People, which will now take over the day-to-day running.

The pool has approximately 90,000 visitors per year, while the sports ground is home to several football teams, as well as clubs for tennis and cricket.

Although the town council's bid to take over ownership of the two sites is not fully complete, it believes it will not encounter any 'stumbling blocks'.

Speaking about plans for the new gym to be built adjacent to Middleton pool, DC Leisure business development director, Tim Hewett, said: "There will be a temporary gym at Tickford Community Centre, but we hope the new gym will be open by January 2015. The site has fantastic potential."

Councillor Ian Carman, chairman of the town council's business development committee, said: "The purpose of the committee was to secure the future and we're thrilled it has been achieved."

Schools warning: Emerson Valley and Merebrook Infant schools have liaised on fining parents

School lateness could cost £60

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

TWO schools are warning parents they face a £60 fine if their children are late for lessons.

Emerson Valley School and Merebrook Infant School are trying to enforce discipline by handing out the penalty if a child misses registration 10 times in a 12-week term. The charge will double to £120 if it is not paid within 21 days.

This week parents' views were divided on the idea.

Emerson Valley parent Nicki Clack said: "As long as the money goes towards improving the school."

Fellow parent Cara Jones added: "Traffic can be bad, especially if you are going to more than one school, but just get up earlier."

However, a dad, who wished to remain anonymous, said: "It is disgusting. What if you can't afford £60?"

A spokesman for Emerson Valley, rated 'inadequate' in last year's Ofsted report, said: "The school is raising standards. The link between good attendance and pupils achieving well at school is clear. We are currently working with other schools to further develop good attendance and punctuality practices, using national and local guidance."

One of the schools it has been liaising with is Merebrook, which did not wish to comment when contacted by MK NEWS.

Hospital charity your top choice

Appeal: Leo the Lion reads MK NEWS as he celebrates his success with readers

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

AFTER more than 1,000 votes MK NEWS can finally announce its charity of the year.

More than 40 good causes were nominated with 1,226 votes in total but Milton Keynes Hospital's Leo's Appeal came out on top.

The charity aims to raise £200,000 to make a difference to the 36,000 youngsters treated in the hospital's children's ward each year.

Throughout the year, MK NEWS and www.mkweb.co.uk will provide the charity with regular coverage to help it reach its goal.

The appeal, which was only set up in September last year, has already raised £10,000 but knows it has a long way to go.

The money raised by mascot Leo the Lion and his appeal will go directly towards improving the ward.

It will be invested in the redevelopment of the isolation suites for really poorly children, reclining chair beds for parents staying with their little ones and toys and equipment for all the youngsters on the ward, including those with special and complex needs.

As previously reported by MK NEWS, Leo's Appeal has already had support from MK Dons, the city's MPs and businesses.

Residents can help by donating at www.justgiving.com/leosappeal or creating their own fundraising event.

Charity co-ordinator, Vanessa Holmes, said: "This is absolutely fantastic and it really means a lot to know that people voted for us.

"Because it's a Milton Keynes appeal it truly benefits the city and really makes a difference to the area's children and their families."

Help with changes to Housing Benefit

Working-age people living in social housing now receive Housing Benefit based on the number of people in their household and the size of their accommodation. Pensioners are not affected by this change.

This change helps families who live in overcrowded accommodation or on waiting lists to find a new home. People who rent from private landlords already get Housing Benefit in this way, and this makes it fair for everyone.

If you are affected, you should have heard from your council.

There is support to help you manage these changes, including:

- thinking about downsizing or 'home swapping' to a different sized property
- finding a job or increasing your hours can make you better off
- applying to your council for a Discretionary Housing Payment.

Find out more about all your options at www.gov.uk/housing-benefit or talk to your council.

Cat's near miss after being shot

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A CAT is lucky to be alive after she was shot and the pellet just missed her heart.

Two-year-old moggy Lola is owned by Dan Collett and his family, who live in Coffee Hall.

Vets believe she was shot with an air rifle – the pellet narrowly missing her vital organs.

The incident happened on January 13 and the family have suffered numerous visits to the vets as they try to nurse their beloved pet back to health.

Recovering: The air rifle pellet missed Lola the cat's vital organs

Lola's owners spotted a clump of fur on her side, but it did not seem to be bothering her. It wasn't until she stopped eating that they took her to Companion Care in Rooksley.

X-rays revealed the lump was from an air rifle pellet, which had just missed Lola's vital organs and was next to her heart.

The vet bills have accumulated to more than £1,000 as Mr Collett had recently moved house and had not realised Lola's insurance had expired.

In a bid to help others the family have been handing out flyers warning pet owners in their community and also reminding them about pet insurance. Mr Collett said: "There are lots of cats in our area and we don't want others to have to go through the heartbreak we have been through. To think that someone took aim at my cat is disgusting. Lola is a fighter and we are hopeful she will make a full recovery."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

4 jailed after police find drugs and gun

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

POLICE have warned organised crime groups that they will find them – after four city criminals were locked up for drug offences.

Michael Mullen, 34, of Broughton, was sentenced to ten years for supplying class A drugs, while both Aaron Bain (also known as Aaron Nyack), of Bletchley, and David Bell, of Oldbrook, were jailed for seven years and eight months and six years respectively.

They had been cornered by police when they raided their drug den at a house in Godwin Close, Wavendon Gate. Bell had attempted to escape by jumping from an upstairs window.

Officers found one kilogram of cocaine, a cocaine pressing machine and an adapted handgun with ammunition at the address. Debbie Bell, 32, who was a resident at the house, was jailed for three years for allowing it to become a drug 'safe house'.

Locked up: Clockwise from top, Aaron Bain, Michael Mullen, Debbie Bell and David Bell were jailed at Aylesbury Crown Court

Detective Inspector Bruce Riddell, who led the operation, said: "I hope these sentences send out a message to organised crime groups that with the support of communities we will find out who you are and stop you."

Keeping children

REPORTER James Averill takes a trip to Hazard Alley, which has helped 400,000 youngsters since it opened

HAZARD Alley had its first school visit in January 1994 and since then hundreds of thousands of children have remembered its lessons for the rest of their lives.

It was the first purpose-built 'interactive' education centre of its kind in the UK, putting school kids into 'real life' situations and teaching them how to react to danger.

We visited its headquarters this week – which takes the shape of a mini village including houses, a lake, petrol station, farm and railway track – to find out more.

Situations the youngsters experience include evacuating from a smokey room in a house fire, calling 999, crossing busy roads, safety in the car and whether or not they should cross the railtrack.

The safety centre predominantly targets children aged between six and 12 and was originally the result of a collaboration between Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service and Thames Valley Police.

It is now supported by a board of trustees who are drawn from both the public and private sector.

Jan Alder, who is the director of Hazard Alley, first joined the charity when it opened as a volunteer.

"The whole point is that we make it as realistic as possible for the children. We usually target primary school students, but you can pitch it at any level if everyone in the group is the same age," she said.

"We have to try and get across our messages before they go to upper school as when they get to that stage they will naturally be given a bit more freedom."

The centre is not a cheap one to operate, as it is in constant need of updating to replicate the real changes in high street life. Just recently a new set of 'current' traffic lights were installed.

Jan said: "This place costs about £350,000 a year to run, but schools pay just £7.25 plus VAT per pupil. If we charged schools what it costs to run the place it would be far more.

"A lot of people are under the misconception that we are funded by the Government. We are a charity and we rely on donations and the good will of local businesses.

"We have a big catchment area because the nearest centres of this kind to us are in

Directing the operation: Jan Alder has been with Hazard Alley since it launched two decades ago

Leicester and London.

"We do rely on help from people, especially our 50 volunteers who give up their own time to show the children around the centre. We are always looking for more of them!"

For many children, the visit to Hazard Alley will last in their memory for a long time.

And while it is difficult to quantify, the work being undertaken has undoubtedly helped save lives along the way.

Ali Raja points out the pothole that damaged his car, inset

Pothole warning

A RESIDENT is fearing for motorists' safety after at least £1,000 worth of damage was caused to his car by a metre-long pothole.

Following MK NEWS' article last week on the 635 potholes in the city that still need urgent repair, Ali Raja, 27, from Willen, contacted us to highlight one on the A509, off junction 14 of the M1.

It punctured his front tyre and buckled the alloy wheel of his BMW Sport 330ci. His traction control was also damaged.

Mr Raja said: "If something is not done quickly someone will have a severe accident, which may cause serious injury."

Report finds the city is 'leading the way'

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A REPORT examining the health of major cities in the UK shows Milton Keynes is one of those leading the way.

The report, which was released by independent think tank Centre for Cities on Monday, evaluates the economic performance of 64 towns and cities.

The city performed most impressively in business, with 54.5 start-ups for every 10,000 people, ranking it fourth in the UK.

The report also showed that 74 per cent of the population was employed and that the average weekly wage was the seventh highest in the country.

Milton Keynes' mayor, Brian White, said: "We are one of those leading the way in the economic recovery.

"The employment figures are also good news, but they are not the whole story.

"We need to make sure that wages stay in check with the recovery."

MK IN NUMBERS:

- 54.5 business start-ups per 10,000 population. Ranked fourth in the UK.
- Average weekly wage of £550 in 2013. Ranked seventh in the UK.
- Average house price of £206,800 in 2013. Ranked 14th in the UK.
- 74 per cent of the population is employed. Ranked 11th in the country.

Taking steps to get young people's vote

BY MATTHEW RAY
editor@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Council has admitted it needs to consider more ways to attract young people to vote in elections.

It comes after a new survey carried out by journalism students at Milton Keynes College suggested young people feel council leaders do not make a good enough effort to connect with them.

It also asked those aged between 18 and 30 years old whether they were planning to vote in the next local elections in May.

Only 11 people out of the 50 asked had any intention of voting and only six of them knew the month of this year's election.

The survey highlights an issue with council elections nationally with relatively small turnouts, especially from young people, and factors like similar policies and little differences between the major parties possible reasons for the lack of interest.

But the council said it is taking steps to help target younger voters.

A spokesman said: "While we have a duty to encourage anyone who is eligible to vote to exercise that right, we will consider ways of more targeted incentives in the lead up to the next election.

"In the past we have run competitions to encourage young people to register to vote and also used social media and text alerts to promote election information."

Concerned: Resident Nick Luke outside Frosts Landscape Construction in Wain Close. He fears if homes are allowed to be built on the site it could set a 'dangerous precedent' for developers

Fears for build plan

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

PLANS to build 53 new homes in Wavendon could 'open the floodgates' to developers.

That is the verdict of concerned resident Nick Luke, after Wavendon Parish Council announced its surprise that Frosts Landscape Construction had revealed plans with David Lock Associates to develop its current site in Wain Close.

The development would fund Frosts' relocation of its storage and maintenance facilities to another part of the city, as it argues that it has outgrown the current site.

But Frosts' agents have already accepted that the site is classified as open countryside, which means it would not normally be used for a housing development.

Mr Luke, who opposed plans to build 3,000 homes near Newport Road last year, told MK NEWS: "I don't think anyone is objecting to the principal of Frosts developing. But the land is classified as open countryside and could set a dangerous precedent if building work was to be allowed. It could open the floodgate to developers."

Part of the requirement for Frosts' growth strategy includes a 20,000sq ft storage facility, a 10,000sq ft training facility and office, as well as hard standing for an additional 100 vehicles.

And Ken White, managing director of Frosts Landscape Construction, said it was the group's 'biggest investment plans' in its 40 year history.

He said: "Our proposals have been carefully considered and we feel we have produced a workable solution."

Top class results for pupils

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

THE performance of students in Milton Keynes has been ranked above the national average for the first time ever.

School performance tables, which were released on Thursday, showed 61.3 per cent of students achieved five or more GCSEs at grades A*-C, including English and maths, in 2013.

This is an improvement on the 58.5 per cent scored in 2012, and is above the national average of 59.2 per cent.

The publication of these results follows the news in December that Milton Keynes is performing above the national average in the end of primary school tests (Key Stage 2).

Denbigh School was top of the table for GSCEs (Key Stage 4), where 80 per cent of students achieved five A*-C grades (including English and maths) to narrowly edge out Ousedale School on 78 per cent.

Jumping for joy: Pupils at Denbigh School celebrate their A-level results last summer

But Ousedale topped the charts when it came to A-Levels, with 93 per cent of their Key Stage 5 students getting three A-levels at grades A*-E.

Headteacher Sue Carbert said: "The secret to our success is our motto 'aspire, believe, achieve'. It may be a bit corny but it is what we believe in.

"We take students who may not have necessarily done fantastically in their GCSEs but we take them into sixth form and try to raise their aspirations."

There was also some good news for Milton Keynes Academy, which was widely acknowledged as one of the most improved schools in the country.

In just two years it has increased the number of students achieving five A*-C grades at GCSE level (including English and maths) from 19 per cent to 53 per cent.

Principal Dara Carroll said: "We have set out to redefine the way we approach education.

"These new school tables simply confirm our journey of rapid improvement.

"We never forget that behind the numbers are hundreds of young people with life chances transformed by better qualifications."

Success sticks for teenagers

A COMPANY set up by a team of young entrepreneurs has been named as one of the best in the county.

The eight sixth formers from Milton Keynes Academy set up their business Muro as part of The Young Enterprise Programme, which gives 15 to 19-year-olds the chance to set up and run their own company while still at school or college.

To help promote their wall decor and sticker making business they were invited to the Young Enterprise annual trade fair in Middleton Hall at thecentre:mk on Sunday.

More than 50 teams battled it out to be crowned the best company in Buckinghamshire with the winner decided by visitors to the event.

Muro came second and the academy was the first Milton Keynes school to be honoured.

The entrepreneurs will now continue to grow their company throughout the year in a bid to be named the overall Young Enterprise winner.

Managing director Shazmin Ahmed, 16, said: "It was really good we came second and we were really happy."

MKEDUCATIONBRIEFS

Healthy week at school

STOKE Goldington CE First School has held a 'healthy week'. Twenty-six children took part in activities each day ranging from yoga to rugby and meditating. Pupils even wore a pedometer tracking how many miles they had walked. The aim was to show pupils that 'active bodies lead to active minds'.

Denbigh typhoon help

STUDENTS and staff at Denbigh School have collected wheelie bins full of items including clothes, shoes, books, toys and household items. They will be sold at the Red Cross shop in Stony Stratford and the proceeds will be given to the Typhoon Haiyan appeal.

Join in walking bus

LONG Meadow Primary School is urging other city schools to register for the Giant Walking Bus. The national campaign wants schools to promote children walking to school and advise motorists to drive slower in their community. To join the campaign schools can visit www.walkingbus.org

Visit to orphanage

STUDENTS from Ousedale School visited Toys R Us last week to spend £1,500 raised by Rotary Club of the Brickhill on books, toys and clothes for the children of the BalgramRai Orphanage in Delhi. Classmates are visiting the orphanage in two weeks time as part of the school's exchange programme.

Webber warms up for winter

WEBBER Independent School has teamed up with Age UK Milton Keynes to help make winter warmer for older people.

Increasing energy bills and colder winters have led to concern for older residents, so the two have clubbed together for the third year running to appeal to the community to donate items to help them.

Last year more than 40 blankets were donated to elderly residents through the Winter Warmer campaign and the school hopes to beat this figure in 2014.

Principal Sue Vig said: "Helping the community is very important to us and the appeal is a fantastic way for students to have involvement with residents."

Chilly reception for children

Ice: Kids with the polar bear created by Duncan Hamilton

NURSERY children saw the ice cool craftsmanship of Hyde Park's Winter Wonderland sculptor when he paid them a visit.

Youngsters at Wyvern School in Wolverton had their lesson on winter brought to life when sculptor Duncan Hamilton carved a polar bear and a penguin out of ice, which they were then able to touch.

Head of nursery Alison Goode said: "Activities like this make the children's learning real and these life experiences are so important."

Thousands turn up for job show

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

THOUSANDS of people attended a new show in a bid to find their dream job on Saturday.

Exhibitors, organisers and guests at the MK Job Show, held in Middleton Hall at thecentre:mk, have hailed it a success.

Among those holding a stall at the event – for which MK NEWS and MKWeb were media partners – was Milton Keynes Council's community learning service.

The service's principle, Claire Griffin, said: "By 11am we had already spoken with 200 potential clients and by the end of the day every single brochure had been given out to someone who was actively looking to take a course or work with us."

Adding to the praise was Iain Stewart, MP for Milton Keynes South, who attended the event alongside Lord James Younger of the Department for Business Innovation and Skills.

Mr Stewart said: "I was really pleased to see how many people had come along to the fair.

"It was not only an opportunity to find a job, but also for employers to find out how ambitious, keen and talented the people of Milton Keynes are. Praise should go to all involved for putting on a productive and enjoyable fair."

Co-organiser Mike Bickerdike added: "We were astonished and thrilled at the high turnout. The feedback from those involved in the show has been excellent."

BOOST YOUR PENSION AND RETIRE EARLY WITHOUT A CARE IN THE WORLD

Ever read "Rich Dad Poor Dad" by Robert Kiyosaki? It's a great book. Kiyosaki teaches you how to create passive income by investing in shares, property and businesses to more than cover your living expenses. In other words he teaches you how to achieve early financial independence. He explains that the rich think differently about money. They don't work for money. Instead they get money to work for them.

Now don't worry if you don't own shares, property or businesses. All is not lost!

If you have a preserved pension/s, better known as "frozen pensions" you may well have the key to unlock the door to early financial independence.

We regularly review clients' frozen pensions. It never ceases to amaze me just how poor some of these pensions are. So poor in fact that I consider it to be a scandal.

We've come across pensions that have annual charges as high as 5%, annual returns of just 2%-3% over the last 10 years and transfer penalties as high as 20%. Many people are still invested in old style retirement annuity contracts some of which only pay out a return of contributions on death rather than the value of the fund. I came across one recently where the policyholder"s pension would have had two thirds of its value wiped off it on death!

If you are invested in with profits watch out for the catches if you have pensions with guaranteed annuities and/or guaranteed annuity rates. All is not quite what it seems. Whilst it is good on the one hand to be offered a higher pension at retirement there is usually a catch such as the pension dying with you leaving nothing for the surviving widow/er. Also you will have paid a very heavy price for these guarantees in terms of very low returns over the last 15 years. You literally get what you pay for!

So it is vital to not only get your pension reviewed but to have it properly managed with regular reviews by your financial advisers at least 4 times a year. That way you can boost your pension and retire early without a care in the world.

So why not have your pensions reviewed?

Building: One of the artist impressions of what the new bungalows in Stacey Bushes will look like

Council houses paint a picture

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

ARTIST impressions have been released revealing what the first council homes to be built in 18 years will look like.

Housing association Orbit Group Limited won the competitive tender to construct the 13 new wheelchair accessible bungalows.

Once completed the one and two-bedroom properties in Briar Hill, Stacey Bushes, will be owned and managed directly by the council.

David Gough, regional director of Lovell, which will build the homes for Orbit, said: "We look forward to working closely with Milton Keynes Council and Orbit to produce these comfortable, accessible energy efficient new homes."

But what do you think to the designs?

Thomas Humble left a comment on our Facebook page saying: "They do not look very light and airy for people that are often restricted to the house.

"I would expect these houses to have better lighting and also have eco features like solar heating/power and the highest rating building materials for heat loss. Along with sky lights.

"So much potential wasted on a very poor hybrid of a Beanhill and Bradville house."

Uriah are set to rock The Stables

URIAH Heep are ensured a place at rock's top table having hit the big time in the 1970s alongside bands such as Deep Purple.

Their classic songs such as Lady In Black, Gypsy, Easy Livin and Look at Yourself are full of ambition, sophisticated writing, memorable tunes and, of course, the vocals – the five part harmonies were a clear influence on the operatics of Queen.

The band is made up of guitarist Mick Box, below, lead vocalist Bernie Shaw, Phil Lanzon, Davey Rimmer and Russell Gilbrook.

They have headlined at stadiums worldwide, but Shaw says he is looking forward to coming to The Stables as it is almost a 'local gig' near their recording studios in Salisbury.

And it is in the recording studios where they have spent most of their time recently as they work on material for a new album – some of which could feature in their Milton Keynes gig.

Bernie told MK LIFE: "The people who turn up can look forward to a pretty good cross section of the band's history. They can look forward to some of the older classics and also some of the newer stuff we have been doing."

Uriah Heep play at The Stables on Tuesday, February 4 at 8pm. Tickets cost £27.50 from www.stables.org or by calling 01908 280800.

STONY Stratford could be the place to go if you're looking for a night out with a difference.

At The Crown in Market Square, burlesque dancers the Moreorlesque Sisters will take to the stage.

The 'Olympic skiing sensation' Flange Krammer, pictured left, will headline the night. He doesn't know his father, but it just so happens that David Hasselhoff visited his home town of Hannover nine months before he was born.

Paul Wogan will be compere for the evening. After exploding onto the scene 13 years ago, Wogan took a break until he got back onto the comedy circuit in 2011.

He is a regular MC at the Way Out West Comedy Club in London and compered two sell out shows at the Edinburgh Festival in 2012 and 2013.

Former musical and cabaret performer Abi Roberts will open the night, on February 13 at 8pm.

Tickets cost £8 and are available at www.ticketsource.co.uk or by calling 07790 864217.

HIT West End musical Wicked will begin casting its spell over Milton Keynes this week. JUDY RILEY talks to the two leading ladies about their magical roles

IT'S like something from a hit stage musical.

'Young hopeful sees West End show in its opening weeks and vows one day she'll play the lead role.' Except this time it's for real.

Emily Tierney, who is playing Glinda in Wicked: The Untold Story of the Witches of Oz, which opens at MK Theatre on Tuesday, saw the show when it first opened, eight years ago. "I thought, 'that's my dream show and my dream part. I am going to play that part one day'."

Just a few years later, on leaving drama school, Emily was cast in the show as a member of the ensemble. Now she has landed the part that she always dreamed of.

"I went through four auditions with one big, final audition that included being filmed so that the producers in the States could decide whether I was right for it before I heard that I'd got the part," she says.

Then the work really kicked in for Emily. When you are about to embark on a 12-month tour, doing eight shows a week and, on top of that, it's a massive part, you've got to be prepared.

"I took singing lessons and built up my stamina. Vocally and physically I need to pace myself and that's probably the most challenging thing and also the thing I'm most nervous about – maintaining that stamina."

GOING green has taken on a whole new meaning for Nikki Davis Jones. As Elphaba, the Wicked Witch of the West, she has to 'green' up' six days a week. She talked to us about embarrassing moments, her choice of fancy dress...and skincare routines.

Nikki took her first steps on the yellow brick road to Oz when she was very young.

"I was always dancing from the age of about three. My granddad was my inspiration. He was a singer. He used to put on amateur shows in OAPs' homes and I used to go along and sing with him. Then, when I saw Starlight Express, it came to me in a blinding flash that it was what I wanted to do."

She trained for three years in London but still has had to deal with the odd embarrassing moment on stage. "I'm quite forgetful and sometimes I do drop lines and speak total gobbledegook but the worst moments have been rare occasions when you're doing a serious scene and something makes you laugh. I've had the nightmare of crying with laughter and not sadness. It's awful."

So, Nikki, quick Q&A time:

If you're invited to a fancy dress party who do you go as?

"Well, absolutely not Elphaba! I confess that I do have a Princess Leia outfit. Not the gold bikini! It's the white dress..."

What's it like having to wear green make-up every day? How long does it take to put on and to get off and does it take its toll on your skin?

"It takes 20 minutes for it to be put on and half an hour to get it off. It's put on my face, neck and hands and because it's water-based, it doesn't get into my pores. But I do get to have a facial once a week. There's quite often traces of it left on my body when I leave the theatre but I've been doing a lot of swimming lately and the chlorine in the water is a great way to get it off." For tickets call 0844 871 7652.

LEONARDO DiCaprio returns to top form in his latest film with director Martin Scorsese, The Wolf of Wall Street.

It tells the true story of Jordan Belfort, a stockbroker who goes from penny poor stocks to corporate corruption in the 1980s. Belfort lives a life of excess as he defrauds millions from small investors, which earns him the title The Wolf of Wall Street.

There's a real daring in this black comedy with well mannered characters who are only concerned with making money and getting high.

At three hours long it thankfully keeps up the frantic pace, with only a few fleeting moments where it clings desperately to quirky voice over to keep going.

DiCaprio plays both composed and chaotic with ease and Jonah Hill is excellent in his supporting role as Donnie Azoff, pulling off the dorky and greedy oaf to a tee.

The Wolf of Wall Street has received criticism but it is also clever and stunning. It's not on par with Scorese's earlier work but is still an exciting film that howls loudly about depravity and the consequences of greed.

VICKY Ogden has been wowing the nation alongside fiancé Sam Attwater in the final series of Dancing On Ice on ITV1. Here she updates MK LIFE readers on how things are going

IT'S a very busy week for us this week as we're having to rehearse in Ireland because Sam is starring in Seven Brides For Seven Brothers in Dublin.

It's going to mean a lot of travelling but that doesn't bother me as I can sleep anywhere, although I think I might need some Nytol for Sam!

We got our best ever score on Sunday and the feedback was great. Sam and I have been fortunate with our routines and we're enjoying them.

Doing the Bangra routine was such an experience this week because I've never done it before. We had an amazing coach called Jay who has been in so many Bollywood movies and he came to watch us on Sunday. He said we did him proud and sent us a Tweet so that was really nice.

The style and choreography of this week's dance is very strong and fierce and there is a lot of footwork for Sam to do rather than tricks.

The competition is so high, but we're staying consistent.

We just need people to pick up the phone and vote for us to stay in the competition.

mktreasures

AN ASTON Martin DB9 is among the treasures on display at MK Gallery.

The gallery is renowned for its exhibitions of modern art, but this display combines historical items with the contemporary.

Old masters like Thomas Gainsborough and George Romney rub shoulders with modern masters from Picasso to Andy Warhol in the free Treasures in MK exhibition, running at the gallery until March 30.

thefollowing

SEASON Two of The Following with Kevin Bacon and James Purefoy has begun, so I have re-watched the first series, writes Scott Kirk.

I had never been a fan of Bacon before, but he really grew on me throughout The Following.

James Purefoy is the real draw though. I'd seen him in Solomon Kane, when he was absolutely fantastic, as well as in the TV series Camelot, and he is born to play the villain.

The plot races along at a million miles an hour and it really is gripping television, so I'm looking forward to series two of this very gritty drama.

My husband and kids are staying here and they love it, my son calls it his Milton Keynes flat. I love them being so close to me, I can just nip back between shows to see them.
It's not nice being away from home but the standard of it really makes a difference, staying in a nice, clean and lovely place.
I definitely would recommend it highly to all my friends and family."

KEYNES (PATRIOT DRIVE, ROOKSLEY AT ITS JUNCTION WITH THE ENTRANCE TO THE CAR PARK INTO ROOKSLEY RETAIL PARK)
(TEMPORARY CLOSURE) ORDER 2014

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the Borough of Milton Keynes intends, in not less than seven days from the date of this Notice, to make an order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, the effect of which will be to temporarily prohibit vehicles from entering, waiting in or proceeding along that part of Patriot Drive, Rooksley at its junction with the entrance into the car park at Rooksley Retail Park, and proceeding through the entrance to the car park itself, whilst works are carried out in relation to the upgrading of the car park. It is anticipated that the temporary closure will be in effect from Monday 17 February 2014 until Sunday 2 March 2014 for 24 hours each day. The road will be reopened sooner if works are completed and it is safe to do so.

Whilst the temporary restrictions are in effect the alternative route will be via Patriot Drive and the access road which leads to the B&Q retail store, and vice versa.

There will be no exemptions from the provisions of the proposed order except for emergency services vehicles and military vehicles being driven on operational duties.

The closure and its alternative route will be clearly signed in accordance with Chapter 8 of the Traffic Signs Manual.

All affected businesses will be notified of the forthcoming closure prior to works taking place.

The proposed order will come into operation on 17 February 2014 and will continue in force for a maximum period of 18 months or until the said works have been completed, whichever is the sooner. If the works are not completed within the maximum period stated, a further order may be made.

Any person committing a breach of the order will be liable upon prosecution to such fine as is prescribed by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

City ride the storm to win

TWO sides and some brave supporters stuck it out to the end as Milton Keynes defeated Reading Abbey in the Southern Counties North, despite atrocious conditions which included thunder and lightning, rain, hail and wind.

City started the scoring within two minutes with Dan Rolfe scoring under Reading's posts. Phil Powell had an easy conversion for an early 7-0 lead for the home side.

MK were generous in giving Reading penalties and through this they were able to work their way towards the home side's line, scoring an unconverted try to make it 7-5 at half time.

Reading kicked off the second half with the ball going straight to Powell. City were able to score within a minute of the kick-off and unsurprisingly with a strong wind, the conversion was missed but MK went 12-5 up. The thunder and lightning commenced halfway through the second half but this didn't deter a Milton Keynes side determined to get the bonus point.

Ollie Fountain added a further try following a double miss move making the score 17-8, and Dan Rolfe added a second personal try near the end of the game, grabbing an intercepted ball to complete the match with the final result of 24-8. Milton Keynes are fourth in the division.

Leaders Bletchley travelled to Wallingford with players thinking of next week's Southern Counties final at Trowbridge, a priority for the team.

Wallingford were determined to put the wrongs right of the first encounter where they received an 80 point drubbing. They put in a determined and aggressive fight which provided a different affair to the earlier game.

Bletchley had a 15-3 half time lead with tries through Matt Nobes and Kevin Turnbull. Phil Harman was successful with one conversion and a penalty.

The lead was extended to 27-3 ten minutes into the second half through Nobes' second try of the game and Will Garret got the bonus point try.

Phil Harman slotted one of the conversions. Wallingford then deservedly came back with two tries, one of them being converted, taking the score to 27-15 to Bletchley at the end.

Elsewhere, Olney moved up to fifth in Midlands Two East (South) after taking apart basement club Northampton BBOB 43-0.

MK Dons Head of Coaching GARY WADDOCK writes exclusively for MK News every week

WE STAYED overnight in a hotel up north before our game against Carlisle United on Tuesday night, and that's a must because of the amount of time it takes to get there. The preparation has to be spot on for games like these.

We'd like to reverse our midweek form that's for sure.

Shaun Williams has left the club this week and obviously it's a fantastic opportunity for him to play football in the Championship.

I've been impressed with him since I've been here at the start of the season and we'll miss him because he's a quality player, but of course we wish him good luck.

The draw for the next round of the FA Cup has certainly brought up some exciting ties with Manchester City and Chelsea playing each other as well as Arsenal and Liverpool.

I watched the League Cup semi-final between Manchester United and Sunderland last week and that was an amazing end to the game with the mistake by the keeper, and then Man United scoring in the last minute as they always do.

The penalty shoot-out wasn't the best I've ever seen but you've got to give credit to Sunderland and it's a fantastic achievement from Gus Poyet.

Juan Mata moved to Man United from Chelsea as well this week, and I think all parties are going to gain from this one.

Chelsea didn't require his services anymore and he was a fantastic player for them over the years, and in terms of Man United you can imagine him playing with the likes of Van Persie and Rooney.

They will become a force again and it's a fantastic signing for them.

Students win England call-up as Ouseph named top seed

BADMINTON

STANTONBURY Campus boys' badminton team will represent England in the World Schools Badminton Championship.

Having won the National Schools Championships in March, the team will now compete in Chinese Taipei in May.

The national school winners from each of the top badminton nations around the world will participate in this prestigious tournament.

Brothers Jed and Harry Arksey, Steven Stallwood, Alex Pandya and Matthew York, together with coach Mike Stewart, will fly the flag for the nation in what will undoubtedly be a very tough challenge.

However, the Stantonbury boys won't be attending the tournament with any fear, as three of the squad are England internationals. Jed Arksey, 16, is ranked third in England for his age group, his brother Harry, 15, is second for his age group and Stallwood, 14, is ranked fourth. Pandya, 16, is a former national gold standard player whose best ranking was seventh in England, and York, 16, was a member of the Campus' National Schools Championship winning team.

Coach Stewart has been a PE teacher for five years and coached the boys' team to two national titles and a runners-up place.

In addition to their own fundraising activities, the team has received tremendous support from businesses and organisations, including MK Community Foundation, Beardow Adams, Bradwell Parish Council, Great Linford Parish Council, Sport MK, and Forza Badminton.

Chris Williams, Principal of Stantonbury Campus, said: "This is a great opportunity, an honour for our students and reflects many hours of training and competition. We all wish them all the very best in competing on the world stage."

Meanwhile, Commonwealth silver medallist Rajiv Ouseph has been named top seed for the eighth year in a row for the English National Badminton Championships at the tournament's new home - the stadiummk arena - on February 8 and 9. Ouseph is looking to extend his record run of consecutive titles to seven.

On top of that he has yet to drop a single game at the English Nationals since 2010 when Carl Baxter took him to three games in the final.

Baxter, who has been runner-up to Ouseph in the last five finals, is not even seeded this year as Toby Penty and Rhys Wallker at second and third seeds lead the challenge. Only once has Ouseph failed to win the title when top seed and that was in 2007 when he lost in the semi-finals to Nathan Rice. Since then only Baxter in the 2010 final and former champions Mark Constable and Aamir Ghaffar, in the 2008 semi-final and final, have taken a game off him as Ouseph chases Darren Hall's record of 10 men's singles titles.

Sarah Walker will defend her crown in the women's singles. Last year's runner-up Fontaine Chapman is second seed, 2011 winner Nicola Cerfontyne is seeded fourth and five-times champion Elizabeth Cann is the eighth seed.

Chris Adcock is looking to recapture both the mixed and men's doubles titles with wife Gabby and Andy Ellis. The Adcocks, who won the Yonex Sunrise Hong Kong Open Superseries title in November, are top seeds in the mixed ahead of defending champions Chris Langridge and Heather Olver as they look to lift the title they won two years ago.

Adcock and Ellis, the 2012 champions, are top seeds in the men's doubles with last year's winners Langridge and Peter Mills seeded to meet them in the final.

In the women's doubles, defending champions Adcock and Lauren Smith are second seeds behind Olver and Kate Robertshaw. Adcock is chasing her fifth consecutive women's doubles titles after three wins with Jenny Wallwork. Olver, however, has been runner-up in the last four finals and is looking to end that losing streak. Former champions Gail Emms and Ella Tripp could be a threat in the women's doubles as they have nine titles between them, while Emms is partnering Marcus Ellis in the mixed doubles which she won six times.

Former champions Wallwork and Suzanne Rayappan are also a pair to watch in the women's doubles while Wallwork could be a danger in the mixed with Mills.

Midweek curse as Dons surrender was unclear. Dons' first mini-chance of the game came when Chris Long skinned Carlisle left back Matty Robson on the right hand side, but his tight-angled cross-come-shot was well saved at his near post by Greg Fleming.

Carlisle were the team that had the lion's share of possession, but a series of sloppy passes led to their moves ending in failure.

The hosts' first half-chance came when Amoo's cross was deflected behind in the 16th minute, and from the resulting corner, Carlisle skipper Sean O'Hanlon headed straight at David Martin to provide the Dons keeper with a comfortable save.

Dons looked like they wanted to take advantage on the right hand side of the pitch. Robson had been a massive threat in Carlisle's 1-0 win over Dons back in October, and the visitors looked like they wanted to exploit any space he may leave behind with his forays up front, or at least that seemed to be the thinking of Ben Reeves, who hugged the right hand touchline.

The former Southampton man tried a long-range free kick on 21 minutes which was easily saved down low by Fleming, although two Dons players weren't far away from getting a touch on the ball.

It was Tom Flanagan's first start at centre back since the reverse fixture between Dons and Carlisle at stadiummk, and after getting through the first 10 minutes where he looked slightly nervous, he grew into the game, although Carlisle were looking comfortable on the ball.

Martin missed a Carlisle corner in the 27th minute as United continued to edge the game, but former Don O'Hanlon could only meekly volley wide with a sea of bodies in front of him.

A better chance came for the home side after some lovely build-up play in the 28th minute resulted in Brad Potts' low shot almost whiskering the post.

Long had another promising position after 35 minutes when he rasped an effort from 18 yards out on target, but Fleming provided a strong save to keep the scores at 0-0.

And that save proved crucial as Carlisle took the lead in the 37th minute. A powerful free kick

Rare start: Tom Flanagan was picked in defence was whipped in from the right by James Berrett, and a deft touch by Miller gave Carlisle the simplest of goals as they took a 1-0 lead.

It got worse five minutes later when Carlisle doubled their lead to 2-0. The Brunton Park outfit carved through Dons like a hot knife through butter, with Amoo's low cross from the right tapped in by Potts as the visitors struggled to keep up with the Cumbrians.

Robinson introduced Daniel Powell and George Baldock at the interval for the ineffective Samir Carruthers and Dele Alli to try and inject some life into a jaded Dons, but Amoo was presented with the first opportunity of the second half for Carlisle. Having beaten the offside trap, his squared ball for Tom Lawrence was behind the man, and Dons were given a let-off.

Dons had a little more spark going forward, but it was still Carlisle who were superior, and Berrett and Amoo both struck shots which went over and wide respectively around the 55th minute. In the 58th minute, Carlisle went 3-0 up as Amoo was left completely unmarked at the near post, and Dons gave yet another easy goal for the Cumbrians in what looked a game which would end with a long trip home and no reward.

Dons looked totally flat, and their night was perhaps typified when substitute Dean Bowditch fell over when the ball was slipped through to him. He got back to his feet, but he couldn't gain control of the ball, and the home side cleared.

In the 68th minute a Reeves cross took a deflection which nearly gave Bowditch a chance, but the ball was easily collected by Fleming.

Dons were starting to finally come into the game, with Gleeson's 50 yard run thwarted as he approached the Carlisle box, while Reeves shot wide from the edge of the area when he was given time and space by the home defence.

Powell then shot at a defender's legs after Gleeson managed to keep the ball in at the back post, but as much as Dons were improving, Fleming had still been left largely quiet in the second half as the visitors' pressure failed to be transformed into clear-cut chances.

Passes failed to meet their targets, and the Dons went through the motions as they tried and failed to find a way through the Carlisle back line. Darren Potter shot tamely wide with five minutes left as Dons huffed and puffed, but they were lacking inspiration, and looked like they wanted the trip back to Milton Keynes to come sooner rather than later.

The defeat – yet another on a Tuesday night away from home – left Dons closer to the relegation zone rather than the play-offs, and a performance bereft of any ideas or creativity showed that Robinson needs to bring some faces in to freshen a team clearly blown by the loss of Williams.

Bowditch was played through with two minutes to go, but Fleming managed to get a touch on the ball to put off the substitute, and the keeper gathered at the second attempt to round off a miserable night for Dons as Carlisle did the double over them.

SPORTSSHORTS

SWIMMING

FOUR members of the City of Milton Keynes Swimming Club represented the South East of England at the Catalan Championships in Barcelona, Spain.

The event featured teams from England and Spain across three days and despite the foreign surroundings, the foursome rose to the occasion and outdid expectations.

Tom Flaherty, 16, competed well with three personal best performances, winning a medal in the 4x200m freestyle team, while Isobel Jones, 16, also won a relay medal with a personal best relay split.

Charlotte Evans, 16, won bronze in the 100m backstroke and narrowly missed out in the 200m back, but she gained another medal in the women's medley relay team.

Joss Ulyett, 18, won four medals, as well as setting a new county 50m breaststroke record and was the outstanding South East swimmer of the meet.

ATHLETICS

THERE was disappointment for Marshall Milton Keynes Athletic Club in the South of England AA Cross Country Championships at Parliament Hill Fields as the Senior Men finished 26th. Leading the team home in a creditable 47th was Steve Tuttle.

The best individual result came with Lara Bromilow's 35th in the senior women's race.

At the Northants Schools Cross Country in Wellingborough for the Senior Girls there was a fine bronze for Fern Yull, while younger sister Grace was 17th in the Intermediate Girls race and Jacob Tresham was 11th in the Intermediate Boys event.

On the roads at the Folksworth 15 mile race top veteran John Skelton (1st M60) was 56th overall with a finishing time of 1h 43m 55s.

HANDBALL

MK OLY Cats beat Loughborough Students 39-24 in their latest Midlands Division One match and have now moved into second place in the table.

Oly Cats made it two wins from two at their new University of Bedfordshire home as Peter Franko hit nine goals to take his tally for the season to 24 and Alex Rabinin scored eight as the Oly Cats moved level on points with Coventry Sharkbite.

Goalkeeper Kevin Pawley made his competitive handball debut after a spell on the sidelines with injury, while GB international John Pearce netted five times on his return after missing last week's win over Cannock.

HOCKEY

ANDY Dickson scored the only goal for Milton Keynes Men's 1sts as they lost 6-1 at home to London Wayfarers in the South Hockey League Premier Division One – leaving them 10th.

In the South Clubs' Women's Hockey League the Ladies' 1sts moved up a place to 10th with a second win in a row – 2-0 at Oxford 2nds.

ICE HOCKEY

One point weekend reduces top three hope

MK LIGHTNING head coach Nick Poole believes topping the English Premier League table may be out of reach for his side, but he still thinks second or third is realistic.

It was a weekend to forget for Lightning as they picked up only one point out of a possible four, their poorest weekend since the end of November.

They suffered a disappointing 3-1 loss to Bracknell Bees at the Coventry Skydome on Saturday, before losing on a shoot-out to table toppers Manchester Phoenix on Sunday.

"Saturday wasn't the performance or the result we wanted," said Poole.

"We were really disappointed with the way we played and the worst thing was that other results went our way."

On Saturday Lightning were unable to raise their game sufficiently to beat Bees, and could have little complaint about the result.

Both Lewis Christie and Stan Lascek returned from injury – however the Slovakian failed to complete the game. Lightning scored first on the powerplay after 1min 56secs when Lascek found Tom Carlon to score on the powerplay.

A further Bees penalty in the fifth minute saw Pavel Strycek penalised for interference on MK's Jordan Cownie. But Lightning were unable to get a single shot in on former Milton Keynes netminder Alex Mettam.

Lightning were caught out for the equaliser after Spearing and Lukas Smital piled on the pressure on the home net.

Poole's men failed to capitalise on a Bracknell sin-binning, and were made to pay when Adam Carr was taken off the rink as Bees got their two goals to make it 3-1.

Cownie put Lightning in front the next evening against Phoenix after just over a minute, and it would stay like that until Manchester equalised within two and a half minutes of the final period thanks to Jack Watkins' strike.

Things looked bleak for Lightning as Robin Kovar edged Phoenix in front on the powerplay, but a cross checking call allowed Carlon to level.

After no goals in overtime, Michael Farn's miss in the shootout gave the Red Rose outfit the win.

Consistency and avoiding injuries are now the key for Poole as his side look to end the season positively, but they have a big week coming up.

Tonight, Lightning entertain Slough Jets in the only game on the EPL fixture list, before tough looking trips to second placed Basingstoke Bison and third placed Guildford Flames respectively.

"We can definitely close in on third or second," said Poole, whose side is currently fourth in the standings.

"To finish top is a bit doubtful now. If we can keep the guys healthy then we're really excited about what we can do, and the big thing for us is finding that consistency in our play."

Dejected Robbo says four players needed after loss

LEAGUE ONE
CARLISLE UNITED 3
MK DONS 0

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

DEJECTED MK Dons manager Karl Robinson wants to bring in four players in positions around the pitch after a shocking performance at Carlisle United last night.

The Liverpudlian said that some players may have played their last game for the club after the Cumbrians were vastly superior to a Dons side that struggled in all departments. Robinson vowed that changes will be made before the visit of Tranmere Rovers on Saturday, and he felt that the players had let the club down.

"I feel sorry for the fans, the first 20 minutes was abysmal," said Robinson.

"When a talented team like ours doesn't perform I can only question hunger and desire and the players have no excuses.

"Some will be told that they might have played their last game for me.

"You have to question players' mentality if Shaun Williams' departure has affected them that much. We were horrendous.

"We've got to use some of the Williams money to build this team because if we don't we'll be struggling."

The game started extremely tentatively, with both sides looking shy of confidence.

And you could hardly blame them. Carlisle started the game only one point above the relegation zone, while Dons came into the tie on the back of gaining only one point against Bristol City and Crewe Alexandra – two teams that were in the relegation zone before Dons played them.

Carlisle's Lee Miller was tripped when through on goal in the eighth minute, although whether the culprit was Antony Kay or his own man David Amoo

Blow for Dons as Williams departs

MK DONS were dealt a major blow this week when influential centre back Shaun Williams agreed to join Millwall for an undisclosed sum.

With the defender's contract up at the end of the season, Dons decided to cash in on the 27-year-old now as otherwise they would have risked losing him for nothing.

The penalty specialist scored 10 goals this season and turned down the offer of a new deal at stadiummk to move up to the Championship. Brighton also agreed a fee for his services but Williams opted for Millwall.

"It's a big blow for all of us but it's the way the industry works and for us in this window to lose our second leading goalscorer and our player of the year is a big hit for me personally," said Dons manager Karl Robinson.

"But I had a good chat with the chairman last night and it was positive on what we wanted to do and now it's up to me to put some names forward and get some deals done."

Williams was initially signed from Irish side Sporting Fingal in 2011 as an attacking midfielder, a role he looks set to reprise in London after primarily being used as a centre back at Dons.

Millwall manager Ian Holloway has likened the Irishman to Xavi, Iniesta and Charlie Adam, so Williams looks set to play a much more advanced role.

Holloway also described Williams' left foot as 'like a wand', and the Irishman will re-unite with former Dons assistant manager Mick Harford who is head of recruitment at The Den.

Robinson has been in talks with West Ham United defender Jordan Spence over a possible return to stadiummk to cover for the loss of Williams.

Spence enjoyed 12 appearances during a loan stint from October to the beginning of January to cover for the loss of Antony Kay to injury, and Robinson hopes to lure him back.

Robisnon said: "We're in talks with West Ham. Jordan's contract runs out in the summer so we can't do a permanent deal and they don't want to do a loan deal because that takes him into a free agent in the summer, so there are one or two complications."
